Every time I read a book, I love to jot down and record my favorite quotes in it. Shall I meet other wayfarers at night? Those who have gone. I will touch a hundred flowers And not pick one. Of labour you shall find the sum.

You have no rose without a thorn; the diligent picker will avoid the pricks and said "abuse not", while a white rosebud warns that one is too young for love. Mindful of drudging daily common things, Patient at pastime, patient at her work, Wearied perhaps but strenuous certainly.
