We should surely bring up again where we now stand. The heavy omnibus, the driver with his interrogating thumb, the clank of the shod horses on the granite floor. It is middling well as far as it goes—but is that all?

The first I graft and increase upon myself, the latter I translate into a new world. I lead no man to a dinner-table, library, exchange. The latest dates, discoveries, inventions, societies, authors old and new. Talkative young ones to those that like them, the loud laugh of work-people at their meals.
